(1) ADMINISTRATIVE WORK

Steward Scott Chaney was present for administrative matters in the absence of entries and scratches for the weekend.

Friday

3/22/2019

(1) NO RACING

We held morning office hours to meet with several jockeys placed on the board from Sunday evening's card. We also held two informal hearings described below.

(2) FILM REVIEW

Jockey JONATHAN ROMAN came to the office to review his crop use in the eighth race on Sunday. He quickly admitted the violation after seeing the video and accepted the penalty – his first in the past sixty days. The ruling will be published next week when we are in regular session (and our secretary returns).

Jockey JAIRO RANGEL failed to appear to explain his failure to appear for his mount on Sunday. Apparently, his girlfriend informed the racing office that his plane was late. And that explanation seems to be employed quite often. Again, a ruling will be published next week.

(3) SECURITY VIOLATION

Stable Area Security appeared with groom FRANCISCO VILLALTA pursuant to a security violation notice issued last week. Mr. Villalta was accused of drinking, then driving in the stable area and getting his car stuck in a drainage ditch. He did admit to having a few beers after the races and explained that he was moving his car to the parking lot. No damage was done to the car or barn area. We revoked Mr. Villalta's driving privileges on the backside and promised any future alcohol related incidents would result in a consult with the Winners' Foundation (he has no prior violations in his ten years of licensure).
